

Lewis Spitz & Edward M Kiely Symposium

with the

74th Simpson-Smith Memorial Lecture

Thursday
23 February 2023
14:30 – 18:00

CLICK HERE
to register for this event

Moderator TBC

14:30 - 14:55	Introduction – L Spitz The Journey of Robotic Surgery - Mr Naved K Alizai , Consultant Paediatric Surgeon and Barrister (Department of Paediatric Surgery, Leeds General Infirmary)
14:55 - 15:20	Sensors and Surgery: perfect match? - Manish K. Tiwari , Royal Society Wolfson Fellow and Professor of Nanoengineering (UCL, Wellcome/EPSRC Centre for Interventional & Surgical Sciences (WEISS))
15:20 - 15:45	The future of fluorescence guided surgery - Mr Stefano Giuliani , Associate Professor, Developmental Biology and Cancer (UCL Great Ormond Street Institute of Child Health)
15:45 - 16:00	Coffee Break

Moderator TBC

16:00 - 16:25	AIDNEC: Artificial Intelligence for the Diagnosis of Necrotising Enterocolitis - Mr Stavros Loukogeorgakis , Associate Professor of Paediatric Surgery (UCL Great Ormond Street Institute of Child Health)
16:25 - 16:50	Traction technique for Oesophageal atresia repair - Prof Dariusz Patkowski , Head of Pediatric Surgery and Urology Department (Wroclaw Medical University, Poland)
17:00 - 17:45	Introduction – P De Coppi 74th Simpson-Smith Memorial Lecture: The evolution of management of oesophageal atresia Prof David C. van der Zee M.D., PhD (University Medical Center Utrecht, Netherlands) Conclusion and Final Remarks - EM Kiely